

Newsletter

November 2025

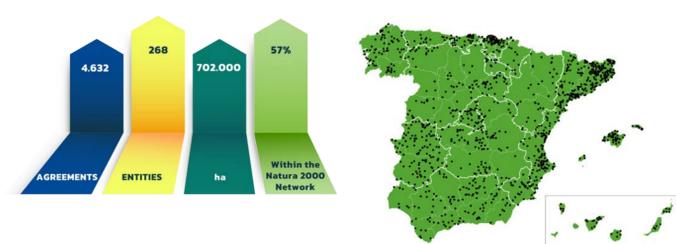

A project to boost land stewardship

The main objective of the LIFE Stewardship project is to promote land stewardship as a tool for nature conservation through collaboration and innovation between landowners, administrations, companies, NGOs and other entities. It brings together leading entities in Spain and Europe to give a definitive boost to this conservation tool.

Land stewardship encourages voluntary agreements between landowners or rights holders and non-profit organisations to improve the natural and cultural values of an environment.

Land stewardship in Spain

Source: Report of the 7th Inventory of Land Stewardship Initiatives in Spain \(2020-2023\) Municipalities where initiatives are being carried out

LIFE Stewardship pillars

Innovation

Focused on financial and social mechanisms and development of public policies.

Mobilisation of funding

Attracting private and public European and national funds to scaling-up the project's results.

Internacionalisation

Maximising the flow of innovation and transferability in land stewardship.

Actions

Progress

The first participatory meeting to promote land stewardship in public policies brings together 19 entities from the river and wetlands sector

Read more

Nearly 40 companies take part in the workshop series on business and land stewardship

Read more

Published a report on training needs in the field of land stewardship

Read more

A study analyses and compiles innovative financing opportunities for nature conservation

Read more

Launched the LIFE Stewardship project to boost land stewardship

Read more

Video

Reports and materials

Brochure

Report on training needs in the field of land stewardship \(summary in English\)

Unsubscribe | Change my data

